There's no question that the hit CSI TV franchise created by Las Vegas' own Anthony E. Zuiker has become a worldwide phenomenon with all of its spinoffs. It also produced CSI: The Experience at MGM Grand, and this week, the 12,000-square-foot exhibit with props, special effects, crime scene re-creations, two crime labs and multi-sensory participation for visitors celebrates its first anniversary.

One dollar from every ticket sold through Sunday will go to the Nevada Victims of Crime

Program, and MGM Resorts International is matching the donation. CSI: The Experience combines the entertainment of the hit CBS show with real-life science and investigative techniques, including DNA and fingerprint analysis.

"It's exceeded our expectations and continues to be one of the must-see attractions on The Strip," MGM Executive Vice President John Shigley said in a statement.

Justin Bieber fans take note that the young Canadian heartthrob makes his acting debut on CSI's premiere Thursday.
